FIRST MEAL IS SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY EVENING

Players All Anxious to Get Into Action—Will Report on Appointed Hour.

By LARRY

According to the daily "flimsy" from Morgantown on the Monongahela, Nate Cartmell's menus have been forwarded to Jackson's Mills. We hope the interpreter is on the job, because the first meal is booked for 6 o'clock Sunday evening. It would be a terrible thing if the menus got delayed in the parcel post or the chef could not read Nate's notes. Just imagine fifty or more football players reaching the camp on Sunday afternoon, and the menus lost. It would be a disaster.

Some of the boys on the team last year were inclined to report to the training camp a little late. It is understood that this inclination has been cast aside this year, and they will all be on the job by Monday noon at the latest. A few days ago, Spears sent out postal cards requesting the boys to be prompt in reporting. Spears requests have long since been acknowledged and orders in disgust, and consequently the return postal cards from the warriors have not even hinted at permission to be reported late. Of course, Spears is not unreasonable and if some player has a legitimate excuse for being late the situation would be taken into account, but no foolishness along this line will be tolerated.

James Von and lost last year. West Virginia did not have a howling successful season, the new coach established a healthy respect for football law and order, worth as much as victories in the long run, and we expect to see the fruits of it in the contests this year.

A report that conversations between Ward ("Horse") Latham and Adam Stansbury at the camp would be broadcast by radio was denied here today. It was stated that they were heavier than sound and could not be transmitted by wireless. So if the public is to know the story, it will come from the mouth of the Fourth Estate will have to broadcast the glad tidings in the regulation manner.

Much interest centers around West Virginia Day at the camp. It will be observed on September 16, the day the squad breaks training camp for Morgantown. Adam Stansbury has been sending out a lot of secret stuff about the program for that day. Intimations of a wonderful contest of some kind.

Being worried because we could not fathom the dope sheet, we put a detective on the situation. Reports on that day they will be a regulation football game between the Regulars and Mannigans which should cause a thrill or two, and make the field run with the blood of rivals.

While the Wesleyan-West Virginia game at South Side Park is still some time ahead, interest in the contest is waxing strong. Even yesterday a fellow wanted to bet us on the outcome. A comparison of notes indicated we were both backing the same team. With this united support West Virginia should have no difficulty in winning the game.

WIFE DECLARES ROGERS HORNSBY GOOD HOME MAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Roger Hornsby, a star player on the St. Louis Nationals, aside from being one of the leading home run hitters in the National League is a wonderful home man his wife said today. Mrs. Hornsby is in San Francisco en route to Los Angeles with Rogers Jr., twenty-two months old, to visit her mother.

"In fact," continued Mrs. Hornsby, "he does house work once in a while when we're having company but his record for drying dishes isn't as good as his record for handling chances on the ball field. He drops too many at home." Rogers only talks of baseball at home when he is asked Mrs. Hornsby said. His replies are short and said "for his whole time at home seems to be spent playing with Rogers Jr."

She was given baskets of fruits and candies and a number of toys. She also received a big doll.

Another large crowd is expected at the picnic tomorrow.

DRY RAIDS CAUSE LIQUOR SHORTAGE

SAN BENITO, Aug. 30.—Activities of customs officials and prohibition officers in making seizures of liquor in the border sections is reported to have resulted in a shortage in dry territories farther up the coast.

Dry officers recently returned to headquarters in Brownsville after a raid in the Rancho district, south of San Benito, bringing a wagon heavily loaded with tequila, aguardiente, mescal and other liquors of Mexican manufacturers. Approximately 1000 quarts of prickly pear liquor were transported recently by government officers from natural channels flowing from the river to the more distant sections up the state.

Enforcement officers in Corpus Christi report diminishing stocks and declare that rum runners are experiencing unusual difficulty in bringing in fresh supplies. An unconfirmed report has it that dry agents are operating two airplanes in the Corpus Christi district and are keeping bootleg operations to a minimum.

WESLEYAN SQUAD READY FOR WORK

Camp Opens Today—Largest Squad Reports to 'Bob' Higgins, Coach.

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., Aug. 30.—At least two more West Virginia scholastic athletes will enter the Wesleyan College football training camp which opened here today. Bert Harbert of Folsom, and James D. Roberts of Pine Grove have notified Athletic Director Miller that they will report at training quarters today and that they have enrolled at the Methodist school. Both men are powerfully built athletes, rugged, and work on Harrison County farms has put them in excellent shape for the strenuous days which start at Wesleyan today.

Harbert is an all around athlete having gained considerable reputation a few years ago while center on Cam Henderson's Bristol High team, one of the first West Virginia high school football teams to take part in the national basketball tournament. Roberts plays all three sports, is speedy and is considered excellent foot ball player.

The Methodist grid training camp opens today with the largest number of candidates reporting to head coach "Bob" Higgins, that has ever entered a Wesleyan camp. Approximately seventy men are scheduled to arrive at the Methodist camp today.

Bradley Arnett, former Clarksburg and Victory High griddier, and a Wesleyan veteran back, arrived yesterday to take charge of the camp training table. With Arnett's arrival the camp staff was completed, and all is set waiting for the first practice work tomorrow, which ushers in Wesleyan's 1922 foot ball season.

JACKSON'S HOPES FOR TITLE BLASTED

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Tut Jackson, erstwhile aspirant to heavy-weight pugilistic supremacy, is going back today to his farm near Washington Courthouse, Ohio, having decided last night that the knocks that one gets in the bang up world of fistfights are altogether too hard. A strapping happy-go-lucky negro, Tut was lured from his farm by the glamour of the ring. He found that money came easier if one could win and stayed on. He had a great time for a while. He knocked out something like forty opponents and then one night he got into a ring with the aged Sam Langford.

Langford, years ago, was one of the greatest heavy-weights in the business, but Sam is only a shadow of his puristic self. Tut knocked him out and the country heard about it. Tut then made it known that he would like to meet Harry Wills, negro heavy-weight who is after Dempsey's title. He met him last night. They poked gloves at each other for two rounds and two minutes, and then Wills swung a right to Jackson's kidneys.

"Tut" tried to get up, but couldn't.

VIENNA PUBLISHER IMPRESSED BY U. S.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 30.—The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway proposed to link the Great Lakes with the ocean and give a vast expanse of territory in the United States and Canada a direct ocean shipping outlet, is receiving comment in many sections of the world.

An article by Carl Junker, editor of the Ost Post of Vienna is one appearing in Europe. One paragraph of the article reads: "Westward marches the culture of the world. Likewise, just as the sun travels with its light and life, the old Atlantic ocean must go west too, and as Americans get what they wish, the Atlantic will move west when they say the word."

'RED OLYMPIAD' ON SPORT MENU

Russians Taking to Sports—Lack of Footballs Keenly Felt.

MOSCOW, Aug. 30.—A "Red Olympiad" is planned by Soviet authorities interested in athletics as Bolshevik Russia's contribution to the world of sport.

Despairing of securing admission to the Paris Olympic games in 1924, Russian athletes hope to be able to organize within a year or two an international competition of the best athletes from the Red Trade Unions and other Communist organizations throughout the world. Proletarian sports, including soccer football, tugs of war, wrestling and field sports are to be featured.

Since the end of the civil war there has been a revival of athletic activity in Russia. Though participating in previous Olympic games, Russia was never quoted as a nation where sports were loved. Instead of baseball or cricket the Russians had the ballet, and they rooted for their dancing favorites with all the vim that Americans displayed in cheering their home run heroes. Horse racing also had thousands of followers, and trotters were as much esteemed at Petrograd and Moscow as in the Kentucky blue grass. Horse racing already has been revived and is growing more popular every day, particularly as betting machines are now permitted.

Among the peasants themselves, however, sport, except for country wrestling and occasional bucolic running matches, was practically unknown. Peasants comprise at least 70 per cent of the Russian

CADDIES ACCUSED OF DEMANDING BRIBES

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The Westmoreland Country Club was in a turmoil today over an investigation of the board of governors into charges that caddies have been exacting bribes from club members and that caddies have accused the golfers of cheating in their scores.

The investigation has been on for two weeks, it was learned. When the name of William P. Kent, secretary-treasurer of the North American Life Insurance Co., was used in connection with it, he said:

"You bet there have been charges and there are going to be more. Caddies have been a nuisance on the golf course. They accuse members of cheating in their scores, and if the members don't come across with a $5 bill they threaten to report. A caddy tried that on me and I told him a plenty. The so-called charges are a result of that instance."

The affair went back to the club championship tournament, Kent said.
